

Bhutan:

March 02, 2012: Highly pathogenic avian influenza. Follow up report No 04 sent to OIE

Two more close by villages were affected with H5N1 during late January and early March. The villages of Gedu (Bongo) and Dala under Chhukha District were missed in earlier reports to OIE. Both the villages ...[\[more\]](#) [\[map\]](#)

Bangladesh:

March 07, 2012: Avian influenza situation under control

Department of Livestock has confirmed that the condition of bird flu at farm level improved all over the country. The Directorate General of Health Services urged the people not to panic as vigilance teams are monitoring the environment of 20 markets. [\[more\]](#)

March 07, 2012: Two new HPAI outbreaks in Dhaka and Khulna

National authorities have confirmed new HPAI outbreaks in Dhaka and Khulna. <http://ectad-asia.fao.org/ea-server/>

March 05, 2012: Three market workers infected with bird flu

Detection of three new human infections with the deadly H5N1 strain of bird flu in a week has set alarm bells ringing as scientists have found evidence of the virus in the live-bird market in Dhaka. [\[more\]](#)

India:

March 07, 2012: US moves to challenge India's poultry ban at WTO

The United States took the first step Tuesday toward formally challenging India's longtime ban on U.S. poultry products before the World Trade Organization. India has kept U.S. poultry products out by banning [\[more\]](#)

March 04, 2012: Bird flu scare in Surat

The death of about 300 chicken in a poultry farm at Navapur in Maharashtra created panic in Surat and other areas in south Gujarat. However, the district administration claim it is not bird flu. [\[more\]](#) [\[map\]](#)

March 02, 2012: Bird flu virus changing, 6000 crows dead

Over 6000 crows have died across several states. Only 20 samples have shown up positive for bird flu. The rest have died of unidentified causes. After ignoring the problem, the government is now moving quickly... [\[more\]](#)

Nepal:

March 08, 2012: Suspected bird flu in villages in Gorkha

The local administration in Gorkha has banned import of poultry in the district after more than 200 chickens died in Jaubari and Gokhu VDCs recently. Authorities suspect that bird flu may have killed the chickens... [\[more\]](#)

Pakistan:

March 07, 2012: Viral disease kills 150 birds at Jallo park

Some 150 birds had died so far at Jallo Wildlife Park due to Newcastle disease. [\[more\]](#) [\[map\]](#)

Sri Lanka:

March 04, 2012: No bird flu in Sri Lanka

The Department of Animal Production and Health assured that there were no signs of the deadly bird flu virus in chicken that had died in a poultry farm at Bingiriya. [\[more\]](#)